Ontario Gov't. announces reduction in hydro rates

Toronto — "The cost of electricity paid by year round rural and farm residential customers will be substantially reduced effective January 1, 1981 as a result of a $20-million special grant program announced last night by the Ontario Treasurer," Energy Minister Robert Welch said today.

The funds will enable Ontario Hydro to provide direct discounts to rural customers.

The $20-million will reduce the differential by about 30 per cent between the retail rate for electricity paid by rural residents relative to that paid by the average municipal retail customer.

Mr. Welch noted that this reduction honoured the commitment made by Premier William Davis to the Legislature last April, and said the program offered "important recognition of the increasing electrical costs which the farming community and rural Ontario face.

"The Government is committed to reducing the price of electricity for the farming community and rural areas to arrange which is closer to the price paid by urban customers, and has instructed Ontario Hydro to reduce further the undue differential between rural and urban electrical rates by 1982," Mr. Welch said.

Mr. Welch said that as a result of this first step there will be an annual reduction of about $35 for each year round rural household in the Province, using more than 250 kwh per month.

Further reductions will result from subsequent actions to be taken by Ontario Hydro.

The special grant will apply to all rural residential customers, including farm-class customers having a resident on the Ontario Hydro retail system, but does not cover intermittent occupancy customers, such as cottagers or chalet owners, and commercial and industrial customers.

Feasibility study reports steam train will cost a million $

The proposal for a tourist steam excursion train running from Lindsay to Haliburton would be a marginal operation in financial terms according to a consultant's draft report released to the special committee this week.

Mr. Sims of the IBI Group in Toronto presented the report, Tuesday to the joint committee on Railway retention for Victoria and Haliburton. In his report, he estimated that start-up costs for the 55 mile steam excursion train would be almost one million dollars. The estimated operating revenue, excluding capital costs in the first year, according to Mr. Sims' report would be $75,400.

In fact, Mr. Sims told the County representative, if he were a banker, he would not invest in it.

In its conclusions, the report indicated, however, that estimates were conservative and if any substantial amount of volunteer or financial assistance is provided the operation would become more viable.

The feasibility study examined other excursion train operations in the province and their revenues, as well as other tourist attractions in the Kawartha to determine what acceptance the steam train might have. The report estimated 25,900 passengers in the first year of operation which could increase to 39,000 in five years. The report was based on an adult return trip fare of $12 with half price fares for children and students.

It recommended a late June to early September season, operating trains daily, with weekend and holiday trips during the spring and fall.

Don McCumber, a Victoria County representative on the committee said the draft feasibility study was accepted without any hard and fast reaction from committee members.

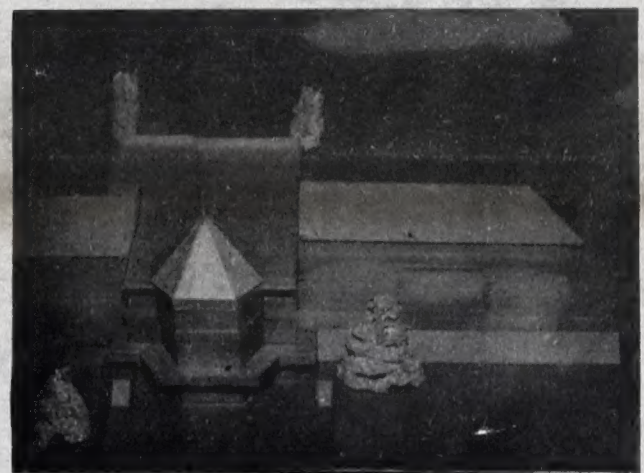

In the meantime, provincial government assistance for the project will be explored through the Ministry of Industry and Tourism.

The committee will

Renovations to Wig-A-Mog Inn well underway

HALIBURTON — Renovations to Wig-A-Mog Inn are now well underway and the Inn on completion, will be one of the finest resorts on the shores of Kashagawigamog Lake. The new addition will feature an indoor pool, convention centre and meeting rooms. The quarter-million dollar project will hopefully be completed for the tourist season which begins again in May. The top photo shows the present Inn and the one below shows an artists conception as to what the Inn will look like when completed.

Homeowners told to wait

Ottawa — Homeowners titilated last month by federal plans to help them get rid of their oil-fired heating systems are starting to get hot under the collar over delays in setting up the program, says an energy official.

"The policy has been announced...but the guides haven't been and the program won't be in place until next summer," says Barbara Pauly, co-ordinator with the federal Enersave program.

The provinces will administer the program "and homeowners had better hold onto receipts of conversions they're having done now," she said.

That's the message Enersave telephone technicians are giving thousands of callers from across Canada who are using federal too-free lines to find out more about the program.

Finance Minister Allan MacEachen announced in his October 28 federal budget that Ottawa, attempting to save oil, will cover 50 per cent of the costs of conversions to natural gas and electricity. The maximum is $800.00.

Originally federal funds were only to apply to conversions begun on or before October 28. But Ottawa now has agreed to subsidize homeowners whose also enter into discussions with CN and the Canadian Transport Commission concerning the application for the abandonment of the rail line between Lindsay and Haliburton.

In his conclusions, Mr. Sims reported that "the steam train excursion or Victoria Haliburton was an "interesting concept". He said it could, "over the long term have considerable benefits for Victoria Haliburton and could be systems have already been converted if the final inspection took place on or after Oct. 28.

Since then Enersave's 12 technicians have handled 3,900 calls a week — about double their normal weekly rate — from people who are interested but confused by the lack of details.

It is estimated that close to 50 per cent of 7.72 million homes across Canada use oil, and conversions to natural gas and electricity have been brisk.

Kinmount Students Excellent

Kinmount — The people of Kinmount were very proud to see the number of students from this small northern Victoria County hamlet, who made the Honour Rolls at the Fenlon Falls Secondary School Commencement two weeks ago.

The top student was Leslie Brown, who gave the Valedictory Address on behalf of the graduating class. She won numerous awards, as follows: Outstanding Senior Student, Grade 13 English Award, Grade 13 Mathematics Award, Trent University Second Decade Award. She won a Secondary School Honour Graduation Diploma and the Fifth Year General Proficiency Award. She is an Ontario Scholar, and married to Alar Soever in June, and is now studying expected to strengthen the economy of the region, by offering a major tourist attraction. The attraction would employ between 15 and 20 people."

Another major advantage, according to Mr.

Sims was that the use of the line by a tourist operation would keep the rail right-of-way between Lindsay and Haliburton so in the future if it is required for freight the line will be available

Thinking Slim

BY JEAN NIDETCH

In this column, I've talked about dealing with friends while you are on a diet — those skinny friends who are always encouraging you to have a serving of something you shouldn't eat. Today, I want to focus on your other friends — the ones who are still overweight.

When you're with them, do you find yourself skirting the subject of weight control (even though it's obvious you've lost 25 pounds,) not wanting to make them feel uncomfortable? Or have you spoken about your weight loss so much that they feel hurt — and angry? Have you then lost a friend?

By now you know I don't believe in forcing people to lose weight by cajoling, shaming, commanding, or tricking. These tactics usually backfire — and worse, they keep people defiantly locked into the same destructive behavior. On the other hand, I do believe we have a responsibility toward friends to show we care about their health and well-being.

Like a job or hobbies, weight control is a part of your life, and you should feel free to talk about it as you would any other subject in conversation. By the way, a good way to introduce your overweight friend to the right kind of eating is to invite him or her for a meal. Surprise them with a dish made of the ingredients they thought they'd surely have to give up on a diet! Here's a favorite for a midday meal that serves four, combining spaghetti, chicken, cheese and tomato sauce:

BONED STUFFED CHICKEN BREASTS

2 skinned and boned chicken breasts, 6 ounces each
Dash each pepper, garlic powder, and paprika
8 slices Muenster cheese, one-half ounce each

Wed., Dec. 3, 1980

1 cup cooked frozen French-style green beans
1 cup tomato sauce, no sugar added
1 teaspoon oregano
2 and two-thirds cups cooked enriched spaghetti, hot

Pound chicken breasts to one-eighth inch thickness. Cut each breast in half and season with pepper, garlic powder, and paprika. Place one-half-ounce slice of Muenster cheese and one-fourth cup green beans on each piece of chicken; roll to enclose filling. Place rolls in baking pan, seam side down. Pour tomato sauce evenly over stuffed chicken breasts and sprinkle with oregano. Top each roll with one-half ounce slice of cheese. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 25 minutes. Serve each stuffed roll with an equal amount of sauce, over two-thirds cup hot spaghetti.

Wonderful, Wonderful Copenhagen

The harbour of Nyhavn, dating back to 1673, is famous for its sailors, pubs and lodgings, its chandlers and tattooists, in addition to other dockside establishments. The well preserved housefronts are full of fascinating details.

When winter closes in on Copenhagen, Copenhagen doesn't close down. Quite the contrary, in fact; winter is the most action packed -- and affordable -- time of the year in the Danish capital, a time when the city is most carefree, fun-loving, and uncrowded.

This winter, the Tourist Association of Copenhagen will once again offer its free discount coupon book worth a $50 savings on things to do and see. The "Wonderful, Wonderful Copenhagen" book, which contains 16 coupons, is valid between October 1st, 1980, and April 30th, 1981, for visitors spending at least one night in the city.

The coupon books will be available from any Scandinavian Airlines ticket office, the Danish Tourist Board at 151 Bloor St. West, Suite 880, Toronto, Ontario, M5S 1S4 -- or the Tourist Association of Copenhagen, Vimmelskaftet 41, Copenhagen, Denmark.

It features, among other things, a 25% reduction on the entrance fee at Montmartre, the largest jazz club in the city; reduced entry Sunday through Thursday at Vognporten, another of Copenhagen's famous jazz night spots; free entry Monday through Thursday at Daddy's, one of the hottest discoteques in town; reduced entry to the Toy Museum as well as to the Mechanical Music Museum; a specially priced luncheon, approximately $6, daily at the Hotel Imperial; a cold plate luncheon at Illum's Bolighus Restaurant, featuring herring, chicken salad, beef tartar with caviar, cheese, bread and butter, for about $8 a person; free coffee and a real Danish danish at Illum's Department Store, Copenhagen's largest and one of its most fashionable stores; reduced entry to the Copenhagen Zoo; and a 25 per cent discount on the hydrofoil between Copenhagen and Malmo Sweden.

The mercury is not the only thing that takes a plunge during winter -- hotel room prices all over town are also at their lowest.

Category One hotels are smaller pensions without private bath. Room charge is $15 per person (all prices quoted are in Canadian dollars) double per night, including breakfast, service charges, and value added tax (VAT). Single supplement in this category is $6; there is no charge for children up to five years old, and those six to twelve pay $6 per night.

Category Two, family style hotels with bath/shower, are priced $19 per person double per night, including breakfast, service charges, and VAT. Single supplement is $7 per night, and children's scale is the same as for Category One.

Copenhagen's first class hotels are also specially priced for the off-season at $25 per person double per night, again including breakfast, service charges, and VAT. An $8 single supplement is levied in Category Three, and children's scale is the same as groups one and two.

Two four star hotels in the city, the Imperial and the Plaza, constitute Category Four. They are priced $35 per person double per night for a room with private facilities; breakfast, service charges and VAT are included, and children's scale is the same as all other price categories.

Other four star hotels constitute the Special Group. Room prices at Hotel d'Angleterre, Kong Frederik, Royal, SAS Scandinavia and Sheraton Copenhagen range from $37 to $60 per person double per night, including breakfast, service charges, and VAT. Children's scale remains unchanged. Single supplement ranges from $15 to $28 per night.

Certain hotels in all categories feature special weekend rates which bring prices even lower.

In addition, three-day weekend bargain plans exist at many hotels in all categories.

Off-season Copenhagen is "on-season" for the famous Royal Danish Ballet and the Royal Danish Opera. Both companies are internationally renowned as among the best in their respective art.

At the Louisiana Art Museum just north of Copenhagen, you will find many interesting exhibitions all year round. From Nov. 28th through January 11th, 1981, Canadian art will be shown. The exhibition includes contemporary art, paintings and sculptures, etc. Louisiana is open daily from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Bella Center, Northern Europe's premier conference centre will be the site during the off-season of numerous exhibitions, many of which are of international importance. The International Boat Show, one of the largest pleasure craft exhibits in the world, will be held Nov. 8-16. The 31st Scandinavian Fashion Fair will take place March 19-22, 1981. The 6th International Food Fair, which will bring gourmets and gourmands from all over the world to Copenhagen with taste buds sharpened, is planned for April 7-11, 1981. And the Scandinavian Gold and Silver Days will display fortunes for those who visit it between April 30th and May 3rd, 1981.

With the Canadian dollar growing ever stronger against the Danish krone, and inflation in Denmark at its lowest point on the Continent, Copenhagen is one of the brightest spots and most affordable bargains for Canadians looking for an off-season vacation in Europe.

Men's Town Hockey league more competitive than in 1979

MINDEN — The Minden Men's Town hockey league is off to a flying start this season, with the teams far more balanced than in their inaugural year. The same four teams have been entered under the same sponsorship, as in 1979 when Home Hardware walked off with all the laurels on the strength of their undefeated season.

Joining them again this year in the league are the Rockcliffe Hotel, Floyd Hall Insurance and Hartwick Construction. After three weeks of play in the 12 week season, the Hotelmen and Home are tied atop the standings with three points apiece while just a point back in second spot are Hall's and Hartwick.

Again this season, John Barkwell, Dave Hartwick and Larry Sawyer are the leading scorers while the goaltending is far stronger with Randy Ellison, Steve Kirkpatrick, Terry Crowe and Warren Payne.

MTC Encourages Use Of New Truck Tire Flaps To Control Spray Under Wet Road Conditions

Toronto — The Ontario Ministry of Transportation and Communications encourages the use of newly developed tire flaps to control the spray and splashing from truck tires during wet road conditions.

These flaps hang behind each tire and are designed to trap water and redirect it toward the pavement beneath the vehicle. In addition, side flaps which extend along the sides of the trailer directly

As a result, visibility improves remarkably for drivers in passing vehicles.

Two types of flaps are presently available in Ontario: the Rain Trapper which is manufactured by the National Rubber Company and the Spray Guard by Monsanto. Some trucking fleets already have them in use.

The West Guilford Centre's news and activities begins each news letter with Bingo reports — keeping up with the news on a daily basis gives some semblance of order to the happenings at the Centre. Monday November 10 still no winner of over the $130 Snowball. Mrs Carol Duncan, the Centre President attended for the first time, and was delighted with her $5 win. The attendance was a record Monday Nov. 17, the Snowball was won by me — Margaret Barker — a nerve-shattering, delightful experience worth $172.

The Wednesday morning craft class is a hive of activity, and if you are having second thoughts about coming along, it is not too late. Drop in and see some of the articles being made. — 10a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Deepest sympathy is extended to our basket weaving instructor Arlene Edwards whose father passed away suddenly.

Thursday Nov. 13 was a gala affair — a dinner honouring couples of West Guilford married 50 years or more. These couples were; Mr. & Mrs. Frank Howe Mr. & Mrs. Arthur Barry, Mr. & Mrs. Stan Cooper, Mr. & Mrs. Clayton Barnum, Mr. & Mrs. Lawrence Morrison, Mr. & Mrs. Keith Sisson, Mr. & Mrs. Les McGuire, Mr. & Mrs. Bill Peck and Mr. & Mrs. Cliff Barry.

Seated at the head table were Mr. & Mrs. Murray Fearrey, Mr. & Mrs. Bannon, Mr. & Mrs. Sid Cooper and Mr. & Mrs. Ted Duncan. Mr. Fearrey gave a short apt speech in which he said the couples honoured were as much married veterans as those war veterans honoured two day earlier. A certificate was presented to each of the couples. A turkey dinner was served by the Centre's committee staff. The tables were most attractively laid and the dance hall took on an aura of a large elite dining room. At least 80 people were served, it was a dinner fit for a "king".

The Pot luck lunch on Thursday afternoon was once again a pleasant few hours with freinds and neighbours. One comment overheard "there's enough food to feed all of West Guilford". About 2 dozen folk stayed for games of euchre and cribbage. The December lunch will be held on December 9th, when we hope for a large turn-out for a Christmas carol singsong.

The West Guilford Centre's Committee, on behalf of all residents of the area, extend deepest sympathy to the families of the teenagers involved in the tragic accident last Friday.

RULES — There are three parts to THE WORD CAGE: (1) clues and (2) quiz, which lead to (3) the final answer, the MYSTERY WORD. The clues and quiz are hidden in the grid — up, down, across, backward or diagonally. First, circle the clue words (we've found the first word for you). You may find the same letter in more than one word, so circle each letter clearly. Next, circle the quiz words; the first letter and number of letters are given for each. When you have circled all the clue and quiz words, the remaining uncircled letters will spell out the answer to this week's WORD CAGE.

Not all RHOSP's the same

It's getting to that time of year again, when the barrage of advertising for Registered Home Ownership Savings Plans begins.

Banks and trust companies fill their windows with big displays, promoting their interest rates and terms on RHOSP's. They also remind you that you have until the end of the year — December 31 — to buy into a plan in order to deduct your RHOSP contribution from 1980 income.

There are as many different plans as there are banks and trust companies. You have to sort through the variables and come up with one that is best for you.

In shopping around, here are some questions you may want to ask.

- What interest rate does the RHOSP pay?
- How is the interest compounded?
- What sort of service fee is charged?
- Is there a charge for opening a plan, and, later,
